Municipal Court; and John Kasser, principal of Carl Steele School. The panel formed from persons shown above will answer and discuss problems regarding juveniles. Parents are urged to attend.

Panel Will Discuss Juveniles

Do you have any questions regarding juvenile problems? Carl Steele Elementary PTA may have the answers. Realizing the answers to many problems may be derived by bringing together persons directly involved in said problems, Eva Bisou, juvenile chairman of Carl Steele PTA will present a panel at the January meeting to answer questions and discuss problems.

Serving on the panel in judiciary capacity will be Judge William B. Keene of the South Bay Municipal court. Lt. Gus Rethwisch, director of the Torrance Juvenile Department, Mrs. Anderson, school physiologist, Mrs. Phillip Johnson, parent, will also participate. Mr. John Kasser, principal of Carl Steele will act as moderator.

PLANTS MAKE GOOD GIFTS

If you really want to do something handsome for a close friend whose gardening likes you know, give him or her a number of azaleas of the same variety to mass under a tree or suitable semi-shaded area.

Camellias are sometimes overlooked in the Christmas rush because Japonicas are not yet in bloom but the willowy Sasanquas make an excellent gift (or you just might send a Japonica with its color portrait and the promise of beauty to come.) The Sasanquas bloom as early as October and through to February and are particularly good for the new gardener because they're very trouble-free.

All parents are urged to attend and perhaps gain an insight to their problems through the experiences of others. The meeting will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 9. The public is invited to attend.

Little Flowers
The beautiful little flowers make wonderful, long-lasting boutonnières and Apple Blossom even has a delightful fragrance.

For someone whose garden has limited space or needs an espalier along the fence, the camellia Sasanquas can't be beat. Most of them have light pink or rosy pink flowers but Hiryo is a deep crimson - red double and Sparkling Burgandy has large, double ruby-rose flowers.

Poinsettias now come in red, white and deep rose, single or semi-double forms, but only the red one can move from pot to garden permanently. The white and varieties want the loving warmth of home and can only go outdoors when the weather warms.

USE OF FLAG IN ADVERTISING TOLD BY TORRANCE CHAMBER

In a reminder to the business community, the Torrance Chamber of Commerce warned against use of the national flag in advertising.

J. Walker Owens, general manager of the Chamber, said that according to the National Better Business Bureau, every state and the District of Columbia have statutes prohibiting the use in advertising of the United States Flag or those of their own states.

State Laws
The Chamber executive said the state laws also declare that no advertising may be placed on, attached to, or connected with the flag, shield or emblem of the United States or of the various states, or upon simulations of them.

Owens said there is no federal law regulating the use of the national flag in advertising, except in the District of Columbia, but noted that Joint Resolution of the Senate and the House of Representatives signed by President Roosevelt in June, 1942, declared that, "The Flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever."

Trade-Mark
In addition, Owens said, the Lanham Trade-Mark Act of 1946 prohibits the registration of a trade-mark which makes use of the flags or other insignia of the United States, the various states or any foreign nation.

It is also noted that regulations under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act specifically prohibit the use in advertising or labeling of

DRINKING AND DRIVING
If you are thinking of drinking and driving during the Holidays, the Automobile Club of Southern California reminds you that there is a tendency for alcohol to effect the brain so as to mask from the person his own condition. You may feel steady but just how good is your reaction time, your vision, just how alert are you. You could find out after it is to late.

alcoholic beverages of the national flag or any emblem, seal, insignia or decoration associated with it.

Dignified Use
The National Better Business Bureau reported that advertisements have occasionally appeared with illustrations in which the national flag is incidental to the scene portrayed. It said it knows of no case where the incidental use of the flag in a dignified manner caused any serious objections, but noted that advertisers should recognize that even such use may be in violation of the statutes.

Owens said advertisers who wish to incorporate a patriotic theme in their copy may, with propriety, use the flag colors, particularly in the form of bunting.

ALCOHOL DEPRESSANT
The Auto Club of Southern California suggests you take a sober attitude toward drinking and driving this Holiday Season. Remember that alcohol is a depressant — not a stimulant. Don't let that "feeling" fool you.
